OCTOBER 2026

Dear Reader,

The watchword for this issue seems to be CHANGE. P17 describes how this magazine will continue into 2027 and beyond. You are asked to take action now if you wish to continue receiving your paper copies next year. Our plea for someone to take over the editor's role has been answered and next month we hope to introduce our new editor who will be gradually taking over from us during the early part of 2027. Elsewhere this month you will see that Jonathan Hillman's "View from the Vicarage" (p22-3) is also headed All Change!

Our regular contributors give us their views on pp 14-16 and there are new village events and news on pp 6-9.

We hope you will find items of interest and will embrace the changes planned for Parish News in 2027 and beyond.

Warm wishes

Gill and Bruce Jones Joint Editors,

01256 851642 or bhrweditors@gmail.com

WEATHER WATCH

October is the month when leaves turn red and brown
Trees turn orange and yellow, Autumn leaves come swirling down!
Rake up all the leaves, and jump into the pile
Come and pick a pumpkin and carve a silly smile!

I imagine the pumpkins will be quite small this year with the lack of water to swell them. The same with potatoes and other vegetables unless the farmers had irrigation. Brussel sprouts will be short this winter as the plants couldn't get established. Even at my age I love walking through fallen leaves. We gather all our leaves up and use them for compost to put on the garden in years to come. If we are blessed with dry weather, we can use our mower to collect them. The mower cuts them which speeds up the composting process. Turning from one bin to another also speeds things up.

What excitement there was when it finally rained on 18th August – the first rain since 1.1mm on 22nd June or a dribble (0.1mm) on 28th June. Then a real amount on the last few days of August. August's total was 35.1mm, well below the 60 year average of 60.7mm. The lawns are greening up, the water butts are slowly filling, and our syphoning hose is safely packed away till next summer. Oh the joy of having a little bath essence in my bath again!

Our 60 year records at Wootton show the wettest October was in 1960 with 228.1 mm followed by 1987 at 183mm with the Great Storm on 15th/16th, and more recently 194mm in 2020. The driest Octobers have been 1978 at 2.6mm, 1969 with 9.9mm and more recently 2017 with 26.9mm. The average is 85.1 mm. The last two Octobers have been about the average. I wonder what this year will bring. We are a long way behind the average running total for the year.

Daphne Oliver-Bellasis

IN MY GARDEN

Well, we have had rain and the temperature has dropped. So, at last, it's just right for gardening.

My hornbeam hedge by the road is cut and the box, yew and conifers are all looking good. Having said that, I have decided not to cut the conifer hedge by the road this year; hardly surprising given the summer we've had. It has not grown much and it looks a bit brown in places. I'll leave it to recover and get back to its usual vigorous self.

In the wall by the patio, the busy lizzies have never looked so good. Let's hope we don't have early frosts. As always with our climate, you never know what to expect! Elsewhere, the Michaelmas daisies are doing well and have a nice bit of colour.

In the vegetable garden we have three butternut squashes. That's it. Nothing else. It's an amazing result to have so little success.

Looking ahead, I shall be planting bulbs soon, Alliums, Camassia and Tete-a-Tete daffodils. By the way, the strangely named Tete-a-Tete daffodils are so called from the French phrase meaning "head-to-head" or a private, intimate conversation, with each stem producing two or three flowers that sit close together and look like they are chatting.

With the weather cooler and the ground moister but still warm, it is a good time to plant or move shrubs and certain other plants – perennials can be divided and planted in more places – or over-vigorous ones can now be reduced in size.

At last, after the delays through the summer, I will be working on the new gravel garden and will be ordering 2 one-ton bags of top soil. Another job, to add to all the others at this time of year - getting the garden ready for the colder months. It's a busy time for gardeners.

Happy Gardening,
Hazel Taylor

WENDYS WANDERINGS

This month I have been wandering in far off places (well, I have been to France for a long weekend which my son and daughter in law arrange for me every year). We went to Aix-en-Provence the place of lavender and bees where the artist Cezanne was born. It is overlooked by a spiritual mountain where Mary Magdalene is said to have spent the last thirty years of her life in a cave after fleeing the Holy Land in a rudderless boat! This mountain was so beloved by the artist Cezanne that he drew it several times from one favoured spot. We visited his studio which was a long walk up the mountain on a road. My son had hired a car for the day and we drove to look at the cathedral dedicated to Mary Magdalene - containing her skull surrounded by gold which I didn't find very spiritual at all. Then we returned to Aix which was really beautiful with flower markets, food markets, clothes markets, lots of vibrant squares, outdoor eating and cocktails, cathedrals, beautiful shops, museums (one of which was all about Paul McCartney's photographs from 1963-64 and was lovely).

The most amazing part was our Hotel. My son booked a Spa hotel which sounded nice but we didn't realize how amazing until we became aware of the running water outside the spa building (all the fountains in the town were turned off due to the lack of rain). I realized it must be a spring. One of my main objects wherever I travel is to bless springs. So we went into the building attached to the Hotel to learn that the hotel was built over the original hot springs for the town. The ruins had now been covered over with glass but were available to see. Outside the building the stream flowed freely and I was able to collect some water. This meant that my case had to go in the hold but as my son had upgraded us to business class (a surprise for me when we arrived at the airport and went straight into a lounge and had dinner) my baggage was given priority and came off the plane first! It was a wonderful trip which I would recommend to everyone, made special for me by all the amazing treats I received. I am now making my remedies with the water of Aix; sleeping with lavender from Aix under my pillow and eating the sweets they produce made from almonds and melon. I can't promise that my next wanderings will be as exotic as this one but who knows!

LOOKING AHEAD PARISH NEWS

We have been aware for some time that the costs of printing and producing Parish News have increased considerably since we took over editing the magazine in the Autumn of 2019. This is leading to unsustainable financial problems. We are therefore bringing in a major change to the way you can obtain a copy of the magazine from next year.

From February 2027 there will be two ways you can keep in touch with Parish News We will continue to print and distribute paper copies but their number will be restricted to those who have chosen to pay for an annual subscription. Alternatively, instead of receiving a copy through the letterbox there will be an online copy at www.parishnews.uk which will be free of charge. This will also have back issues to consult and direct links to contact organisers and advertisers. There will be no longer be extra copies available in churches, shops and libraries as this would be unfair to those who have paid. The subscription price for 2027 is £15 and is payable to our Treasurer, Frances Langley (using the form below). If you wish to continue to receive a paper copy of the magazine from 2027 please complete the slip below and send it with your payment by December 31st 2026.

READERS' RECIPES

Seasonal Apple & Cinnamon Cake

Ingredients:

10oz/280g SR flour | 1½ tsp cinnamon | half tsp salt
8oz/225g brown sugar | 4oz/110g raisins/sultanas
4oz/110g melted butter | 2 eggs beaten | 6fl oz/170ml milk
8oz.225 g peeled and chopped apples
1 Tablespoon of demerara sugar

Method:

- Heat oven to gas mark 4/ electric 180 C/ Fan oven 160 C
- Grease and line a rectangular tin approximately 25 x15 cm or round cake tin 20 cm diameter.
- Sift flour, cinnamon and salt into a bowl and stir in the sugar and raisins or sultanas.
- Mix in a jug the cooled melted butter, beaten eggs and milk and pour into the sifted ingredients. Beat mixture until smooth.
- Stir in the chopped apples, pour into dish. Smooth top and sprinkle with demerara sugar.
- Cook for around 1 hour until golden and springs back when pressed. Check that a knife comes out cleanly when inserted into centre of cake.
- Cover tin with paper or foil and leave until cool. Turn upside down and remove grease proof paper

Can be eaten cold as a cake or warm with custard/cream as a dessert
Can be frozen

Alternative:
Try rhubarb and ginger instead of apple and cinnamon

VIEW FROM THE VICARAGE

All Change!

Well, what a summer we've just had. After years of holidays dodging rain, enjoying the Pembrokeshire coast without a single drop felt like a real change.

Whatever we may feel about climate change, we can no longer dismiss extreme weather as a blip. We are facing real and damaging consequences, and responding will require changes not only in policy and investment, but also in mindset and behaviour.

In 2019 the World Resources Institute identified six areas needing revolution: energy, transport, land use, industry, infrastructure and finance. It warned that reaching climate milestones remains technically possible, but only with exponential change in policy, investment, action, mindset and behaviour. I wonder how much has really changed since then.

The more I read, the more uncomfortable I become. My choices over the years have played their part, and it is too easy to excuse that: we did not know then what we know now; what difference can one person make? Yet those answers come too readily, and the scale of change needed can feel overwhelming.

Creationtide reminds us of our responsibility to the natural world. Our Harvest celebrations are one expression of this, as is our calling "to strive to safeguard the integrity of creation and sustain and renew the life of the earth" — in other words, to treasure it for the generations who follow us.

Part of the challenge we are told is that of "mind set and behaviour". This is where my faith matters.

I often speak about three 'B's' when describing what church should be: Belonging, Believing and Behaving. Our behaviour flows from our deepest beliefs, even when putting those beliefs into practice is hard, costly and slow. It is easy to slip back into old habits but with support, encouragement and love real change can happen.

Watching our grass turn from lush green to arid brown, then slowly recover with the rain, has reminded me that hope remains. If we are prepared to let our belief in treasuring creation shape our behaviour, change is still possible.

"if enough people stand together and fight for the right thing anything can happen."
Greta Thunberg (2019)

May we be the change our world needs.

Time to Remember

Annual memorial service

Remembering those whom we have loved

Sunday 1st November
4.00pm St Stephen's, Baughurst.

As part of our act of remembrance, names are read out and candles lit. If you have a loved one you would like to remember, please email providing their name (vicar@northwessexchurches.org.uk).

We do hope you, your family, friends and any who you feel may find this service helpful are able to join us as we gather to remember.

Light refreshments will be available from 3.15pm for any who may wish to join us before the service, especially those who may need to travel to be with us.

We look forward to welcoming you.
